

Drown

Boy In Space

Hold my breath and count to ten
While she rips my heart, I see thousand stars hold it in
No, I'll never love again

'Cause you made me a fool
Now tell me, who's loving you?

Watch me as my world burns down
You kicked me down and stole my crown
Though my heart is telling me to go
I just gotta let you know
That you sunk my ship and then you let me drown

And the world cries out tonight
Like a howling wind piercing through my skin, I'll be alright
No, we'll never be again, oh

'Cause I know someone is loving you
No, don't lie, I know that it's true

Watch me as my world burns down
You kicked me down and stole my crown
Though my heart is telling me to go
I just gotta let you know
That you sunk my ship and then you let me drown

I've seen heartbreaks, sad days
Torn up bad craves
But I have never felt pain like this
And all I ask of you, is...

Watch me as my world burns down, oh

Watch me as my world burns down
(Watch me as my world burns down)
You kicked me down and stole my crown
(You kicked me, oh, down, ooh)
Though my heart is telling me to go
(My heart is telling me to go)
I just gotta let you know
That you sunk my ship and then you let me drown
Yeah, you sunk my ship and now you let me drown
