

Boyfriends

boygenius

She's out on the back deck
Talking to her marigolds
Sitting in a sundress
Listening to bands nobody knows

You don't have to do that They're either gonna die or they will grow
Guess you're talking to yourself then
You can never stand to be alone
Time can be a savage
It will bring you peace but makes you old
Hell is gonna have it
She says, "Get a fucking job or just come home"

But you're not gonna go back
You never liked the freezing snow
Stuck out in the midwest
Standing at another house show

You always wanna save them
You think that you can change them
I think you're blaming yourself
But you say the medication, it helps

Calling in the morning
Asking me to analyze your dreams
What happened to your boyfriend?
You don't think about him when you sleep
I guess that's why you're sleeping
I guess that's why you're gardening
Back out on the coast again
Looking for a second chance

You always wanna save them
You think that you can change them
I think you're blaming yourself
But you say the medication, it helps

What happened to your boyfriend?
What happened to your boyfriend?
What happened to your boyfriend?
What happened to your boyfriend?