

Save Yourself

BoySetsFire

So this is what you want
Choices are made and given up
I just cant comprehend the need to sit when you can stand
The game is rigged, the money spent

Shut your mouth look around
This motherfucker is burning down
And nothing's gonna save us now
Get out... and save yourself

There's only so much I can say tried so hard to help you find your way
But every step a wasted breath of false hope and promises
There's nothing to save, there's nothing left

Save yourself or die away

So this is what you want
Your choice was made, you've given up
I'll never comprehend the need to sit when you can stand
There's nothing left, the money spent
