

Change

BoyWithUke

It's not that deep
You should really watch your step
Don't tell me why you do it, just tell me why you're upset with me
I don't want to make a mess, so please

You can talk about everything you wanna say
You know I like to listen, even if you're feeling hate
For me
I'm not who I used to be

Don't run away, don't run away, don't run away
We'll be okay
Don't run away, don't run away, don't run away
We'll be okay
Don't overthink, we've got all day
I promise we can handle change

Be alone
With everything you own
With my presence as a burden, I'm open to going home
I don't mean that we should sit down and breathe
And you can fall asleep. Use my body as a bed
Don't think of repercussions, my mother said
To be someone who I want to be with

Don't run away, don't run away, don't run away
We'll be okay
Don't run away, don't run away, don't run away
We'll be okay
Don't overthink, we've got all day
I promise we can handle change
