

Far Away

BoyWithUke

There's a hundred miles from you and I
And so many signs to forget you
And though I might be wrong
And though I write shit songs
I know it won't be long till I see you

Sorry but I just can't stop liking you
I hope these other guys won't see you, oh, so pretty like I do
Please don't break my heart
It's hard enough to heal arteries without glue
I'll see it through if you're down to
I'll see you soon 'cause I miss you

I might go too high though, I'm typing all these typos
'Cause you're the sight I see when I'm falling off of my tightrope
And you're the life that flashes through my eyes when I will die
So I apologize, it's kinda hard for me to lose what I know
And I won't go too low, but you're as far as Pluto
163, 600 yards from my home
And I hope that you don't get bored of me or my clothes
I'm kinda broke but making dough from all the songs that I wrote

Sorry but I just can't stop liking you
I hope these other guys won't see you, oh, so pretty like I do
Please don't break my heart
It's hard enough to heal arteries without glue
I'll see it through if you're down to
I'll see you soon 'cause I miss you

I know I might seem childish writing all of these songs
I've wrote hundreds 'bout our love and staying strong
Though it won't be too long righting all of my wrongs
Know I'm on my way if you think something's off

Sorry but I just can't stop liking you
I hope these other guys won't see you, oh, so pretty like I do
Please don't break my heart
It's hard enough to heal arteries without glue
I'll see it through if you're down to
I'll see you soon 'cause I miss you
