

The Joke Is on Me

Boyzone

I live my life so easy
I like my love straight down the line
High, big or low-key, that's you and me
We faced our fear all in one night

Digging for gold just to make ends meet
I would never lie but you lied when I couldn't see
Oh it's like you just pulled the love from right under me
Laughing uncontrollably, tell me what to do with myself

Ain't it funny how your love can change
But the joke is on me this time
Ain't it funny how I thought you'd stay
But the joke is on me this time

Someone tell me how to sleep
Someone tell me how to sleep

I won't get equal and in my way
I come back to haunt you or you'll be okay
You'll be married in love, though
I'll be drunk and so messed up
Thinking about us, laughing about us, getting old and grey

Digging for gold just to make ends meet
I would never lie but you lied when I couldn't see
Oh it's like you just pulled the love from right under me
Laughing uncontrollably, tell me what to do with myself

Ain't it funny how your love can change
But the joke is on me this time
Ain't it funny how I thought you'd stay
But the joke is on me this time

Someone tell me how to sleep
Someone tell me how to sleep
Someone tell me how to sleep
But the joke is on me this time

Can't build the house with a heart of stone
I thought I was doing what I do just to buy a home
Oh I'm now shocked, I'm ashamed, don't know where to go
Crying uncontrollably, tell me how you live with yourself

Ain't it funny how your love can change
But the joke is on me this time
Ain't it funny how I thought you'd stay
But the joke is on me this time

Someone tell me how to sleep
Someone tell me how to sleep
Someone tell me how to sleep
But the joke is on me this time
