Shoe Gazer

I had something else to say But someone took it away And I, have a fear of being trampled down And being thrusted to the underground

I'm just a shoe gazer And I, am just a daydreamer

There's not much for me to do Except stare right down at you And I, have a fear of being trampled down And being thrusted to the underground

I'm just a shoe gazer And I, am just a daydreamer

I don't have anything to say But, I know I'm wise I'm searching for all the answers on the floor I don't hear all the words you say When you criticize I don't know what I should be listening for

And I, am just a shoe gazer I think my shoe's untied I'm just a daydreamer My day turns into night I'm just a shoe gazer I think my shoe's untied I'm just a daydreamer

I don't have anything to say But, I know I'm wise
