

Yes, You Are

Brad

If you listen closely, you can make it out
It's the sound of a choir
Sing along with the music in the air
It's like being in love
You're lost but not heart-broken
And you're wondering if you'll still be around
It's like catching a falling star
When a girl is your own best friend
You are, yeah, you are...
So where on earth do you wanna go?
To new york city or southern mecixo?
Where the sky is bright and the leaves are green
Where the air is clear and lost but not heart-broken
And you're wondering who's really around
It's like being your own best friend
It's like being your own best friend
You are, yeah, you are...
So let me know whenever the time comes
If you need any assistance
'cause you know I'll always lend a hand
And many can begin it again
'cause I'll tell you who knows
Who knows how the story goes
Now this life will come to an end
When the flowers are blooming
And all your friends are gone
There couldn't be a more fitting end
Being in this movie where you're loss
And sometimes you're heart-broken
You're wondering if you even want to be around
But sometimes your own best friend
Is a girl
You are, yes, you are...
