

Beyond My Destiny

Brainstorm

Between love and hate!
Borders slowly dissolve and somewhere down the line you forget about love and hate

The doors are locked
Try to get in
The inner evil always will win
My tools with me
A simple plan
Can't understand you'd used the man

No suffering with my tongue inside
A torture with a slow decay in the night
Electrified, just fade away
Nobody ever get's in my way

When will we be together, side by side...
Time to start the feeding
It still bites, bites you and me

Beyond my destiny
Beyond, now suffering
Beyond my destiny
Too far, but my love is real

I'm trying not to get out of bed
Depression, someone tell me whether I'm dead
I dare you to cross this line
I always dared you, but now you're mine

No one can see you, no one will know
Sinking to an all-time, .. all time low
I'm crucified, and years gone by
When damage has been done, another life

And still we are together, side by side
Can even taste the bleeding
It still shines, shines on you and me

You will never give up
You will never give in
Give back my ticket
Another ride begins
