

Curtains Fall

Brainstorm

The path of no return has killed all my illusions
To believe in what illusions used to be
I've buried all my dreams and came to the conclusion
The fire in my soul avoids your empathy

This enforced apathy
Exposes your lies
Words are hammering down on me
Feels like I'm crucified

Curtains fall, one for all
Curtains calling
Curtains fall, end it all
Curtains calling

The years of all my sorrow
And thoughts of all your laughter
Still haunt me deep inside
And I feel hypnotised

I'm rushing through the gates
Right on the morning after
I'm here to testify
You're the devil in disguise

My constant agony
Exposes your life
Tears are hammering down on me
Now you are crucified

Curtains fall, one for all
Curtains calling
Curtains fall, end it all
Curtains calling

My constant agony
Exposes your life
Tears are hammering down on me
Now you are crucified

Curtains fall, one for all
Curtains calling
Curtains fall, end it all
Curtains calling

Curtains fall, one for all
Curtains calling
Curtains fall, end it all
Curtains calling
