Devil's Eye

Brainstorm

So far away but don't have to be alone
Waiting for rescue
Wondering why I can't do this on my own
I could forget you

I can erase all the memories, they weren't true
Time to believe in
Falling apart at the seams
I know I should start breathing

Don't waste time complaining
Why my fate is fading
When it's over I'll be resting free

I set fire to the sky
And the world is asking why
Dreaming, dying, rising
Stare into the devil's eye
And the world is asking why
Dreaming, dying, rising

So many choices but where will they lead us
Sorrow in my heart
Am I the stone and I'm drying my tears
Deep in the dark

With every word I was causing so much pain
I feel the pulse rise
Running away and my heart now is pounding
End of my line

Don't waste time complaining
Why my fate is fading
When it's over I'll be resting free

Don't waste time
When it's over I'll be resting free

I set fire to the sky
And the world is asking why
Dreaming, dying, rising
Stare into the devil's eye
And the world is asking why
Dreaming, dying, rising

I set fire to the sky
And the world is asking why
Dreaming, dying, rising
Stare into the devil's eye
And the world is asking why
Dreaming, dying, rising

I set fire to the sky
And the world is asking why
Dreaming, dying, rising

Dreaming, dying, rising
