

False Memories

Brainstorm

With all the fears and hopes you're guiding
Alone, you're standing next to me
With all the secrets you are hiding
I never said I will believe
A million ways to burn and go down
Again, you can't deny the words
A promise failed, a scream with no sound
A trail of lies, that's all I've heard

There's a fire raging
Clouds are drawing near
I never leave in sadness and tears

I'm caught in a dream
With your false memories
The nights are wearing me out
With your false memories
You're casting a shadow on me
Casting shadows with your false memories

I'm caught in a dream
With your false memories
The nights are wearing me out
With your false memories
You're casting a shadow on me
Casting shadows with your false memories

I'd wish the world's a better place
With no more fears of what we've done
I'd wish a smile upon your face
And no more guns for anyone
Beware the beast, beware the future
Beware what all is left inside
Don't turn your back on ancient cultures
Don't say you can't, don't tell me you tried

There's a fire raging
Clouds are drawing near
I never leave in sorrow and tears

I'm caught in a dream
With your false memories
The nights are wearing me out
With your false memories
You're casting a shadow on me
Casting shadows with your false memories

I'm caught in a dream
With your false memories
The nights are wearing me out
With your false memories
You're casting a shadow on me
Casting shadows with your false memories

I'm caught in a dream
With your false memories
The nights are wearing me out

With your false memories
You're casting a shadow on me
Casting shadows with your false memories

I'm caught in a dream
With your false memories
The nights are wearing me out
With your false memories
You're casting a shadow on me
Casting shadows with your false memories

I'm caught in a dream
With your false memories
The nights are wearing me out
With your false memories
You're casting a shadow on me
Casting shadows with your false memories

I'm caught in a dream
With your false memories
The nights are wearing me out
With your false memories
You're casting a shadow on me
Casting shadows with your false memories

Casting shadows with your false memories
Casting shadows with your false memories
