

Breathe in, breathe out
Every rule I break
Every soul I send to rest forgets the price
But put to sleep it burns in sight

It's from the cold to the flame
You better tell me lies, they will reveal your name
Heath to my sword, you'll be forever mine
Until the end of time

Watch me die another day
An endless price I had to pay
I'm feeling heat on my face
It's alright, it's alright

What you see beyond my mind
It takes me to the other side
As I already died
It's alright, it's alright

Killing me over it, in a boat do I get
It brings death to the liars, they now get crucified
Get filled with self desire
There's a map, it's all of fire

If you must become a ghost
Let the devil have your soul

My sinners will be reborn
The devil in disguise [?]
Tell the state this solid thing
This thing called reality

No wisdom without end
The light seems to shine without the pain
It's mold down in my knees
With open arms, begging please

A fire kept my soul away
I've lost my father another way
All the world kept me away
It's alright, it's alright

Now your sins will prevail
But now your [?]
With all the secrets that you keep
That's alright, that's alright
