

Glory Disappears

Brainstorm

There is no tomorrow
All of my secrets and all of my demons
I know they will follow
I won't hide and I can't wait

I cannot hold my breath until

I'm crying blood instead of tears
When glory disappears
Lost all hope but still I pray
My smile begins to fade
I'm crying blood instead of tears
When glory disappears
I was born to pass away
As the skies turn black from grey

The witness of my life
My face on the wall, I hear the dungeons call
Retrace the thin line
I'll pick up my soul and walk away

But without disguise I'm lost until

I'm crying blood instead of tears
When glory disappears
Lost all hope but still I pray
My smile begins to fade
I'm crying blood instead of tears
When glory disappears
I was born to pass away
As the skies turn black from grey

I'm crying blood instead of tears
When glory disappears

I'm crying blood instead of tears
When glory disappears
Lost all hope but still I pray
My smile begins to fade
I'm crying blood instead of tears
When glory disappears
I was born to pass away
As the skies turn black

I'm crying blood instead of tears
When glory disappears
Lost all hope but still I pray
My smile begins to fade
I'm crying blood instead of tears
When glory disappears
