

Holding On

Brainstorm

Time seems so important to you
I'm running back and forth again
The seal of fate, the path to end's demise
And keep your distance far from me
I'll take the faith with open hand
This moment lasts to your closing eyes

The pain's everlasting
This time I'm beholding
The memories of what love could be

Holding on, holding on to my misery
Holding on, It's the end of your agony
Holding on, holding on to my misery
Holding on, there's a path that you can't see

Holding on but never alive
I'm not afraid to fall asleep
My knees are weak, I'm a slave to your desire
Thoughts I caress won't fall apart
As long as you are by my side
Your strength is needed, my heart's still on fire

The pain's everlasting
This time I'm beholding
The memories of what love could be

Holding on, holding on to my misery
Holding on, It's the end of your agony
Holding on, holding on to my misery
Holding on, there's a path that you can't see

Holding on, holding on to my misery
Holding on, It's the end of your agony
Holding on, holding on to my misery
Holding on, there's a path that you can't see

Holding on, holding on to my misery
Holding on, there's a path that you can't see
