Nailed Down Dreams

Brainstorm

Can you take me to heaven?
I'm naked in my misery
It's only one, long last breath
And one last dream away

Can you ever release me?
Can you ever free my soul?
For all the tears my friends will cry
A single tear for every lie

You've locked our hopes away
Some lost their pride under your sway
In this void of social care
We're lost, everywhere

Embrace your dreams (thrives on defeat)
It's all we do, and all we can't see
Reveal your soul (running out of steam)
These are your nailed down dreams

So many souls you have broken
You've taken all our dignity
Draining out my hopes and call it
"Terror" on the screen

And all is left and unspoken
Retribution from your hand
I won't be the only one who's lost
They'll bury me on this barren land

You've locked our souls away
Some lost their pride under your sway
Unheard and they don't care
We're lost, everywhere

Embrace your dreams (thrives on defeat)
It's all we do, and all we can't see
Reveal your soul (running out of steam)
These are your nailed down dreams

(Thrives on defeat)
(Running out of steam)

You've locked our souls away
Some lost their pride under your sway
Unheard and they don't care
We're lost, everywhere

Embrace your dreams (thrives on defeat)
It's all we do, and all we can't see
Reveal your soul (running out of steam)
These are your nailed down dreams

Embrace your dreams (thrives on defeat)
It's all we do, and all we can't see
Reveal your soul (running out of steam)
These are your nailed down dreams
