The Pyre

Brainstorm

You're playing God and you're playing with fire
The void awaits while you call me a liar
You leave behind now my body cold
You brought anger and fear to the world

The evil strikes and you're laughing inside
So watch me bleed while I pay the price
Chains 'round my neck and my body raped
Ask God to forgive or expect my hate

Prey - you can't seem to get it right
The preacher lost his life last night

The pyre
The place you tried
To set my soul on fire
The pyre
The winds of sorrow
Will tell my child my soul's alive

The pyre
The place you tried
To set my soul on fire
The pyre
The winds of sorrow
Will tell my child my soul's alive
My soul's alive

So now's the time to open my eyes
The flames have died under blood red skies
I roll my eyes and curse your name
Now you will die, every day again

I am the witch and hunter, as one
There is no church that can safe you from
My hands of fate, my pounding hate
I've told you once, but it's far too late

Prey - you can't seem to get it right
The preacher lost his life last night

The pyre
The place you tried
To set my soul on fire
The pyre
The winds of sorrow
Will tell my child my soul's alive

The pyre
The place you tried
To set my soul on fire
The pyre
The winds of sorrow
Will tell my child my soul's alive

The pyre
The place you tried

To set my soul on fire
The pyre
The winds of sorrow
Will tell my child my soul's alive

The pyre
The place you tried
To set my soul on fire
The pyre
The winds of sorrow
Will tell my child my soul's alive

The pyre
The place you tried
To set my soul on fire
The pyre
The winds of sorrow
Will tell my child my soul's alive

The pyre
The place you tried
To set my soul on fire
The pyre
The winds of sorrow
Will tell my child my soul's alive

The pyre
