

I can hear it now through everything you say
My time is up, I have to take myself away
And erase myself from all of my mistakes
If I'm too scared to, let me know

And I won't change 'cause I'm for nothing
I can't keep on moving on
Won't take a second chance again
'Cause all I do is tear more thoughts from your head
This should be simple on my end

End it now and you'll be set, you understand

And I owe this my life
I found hope in sound, I thought I couldn't write
And just because I'm letting out my patient side
Don't mean I got this
But I'll let you know when I'm alone
