And the fear about bringing up something else-

Brakence

Hello?

Hey

I think too much
At least I know that
And I say too much
I'm gonna go back
'Cause I have found myself in you
And I need your love

As much as I need
Air in my lungs
And I'll be waiting 'cause I have yet to show you, girl

And I'll feel better when
We've stared and maybe talked it out with all my effort I'm learning now
And I'll be exactly what you want
Once I straighten myself out
In the meantime, I'll be down to try and help
Help

But I think too much
At least I know that
And I weigh too much
But I'll relax
'Cause I have found a little truth, you

And I need your love
As much as I need air in my lungs
And I'll be floating 'cause I have let my worry go

I think too much
And I say too much
I'm gonna go back
'Cause I have found myself in you

Um... my rationalizing right now this minute, and I don't know how to do that except to shut up and um...
