

Enough

Branan Murphy

Is it me or is it just another day
They say love like this could never be a phase
Over time I guess we found a better way
If I could go back now I'm sure that I would stay

'Cause I think we lost who we are
In the times that we rise, the times that we fall
Got my eyes on the score, took my eyes off the ball
Did I take it too far?

When did You stop being enough for me?
When did You stop being enough?
When did You stop being enough for me?
When did You stop being enough?
Enough, enough, enough
Enough, enough, enough
Enough, enough, enough
Enough

Reminiscing, missing how You captivate me
Lately, I've been wondering if I can make it
Moving on seems easy when the feelings fade
I'm so caught up trying to catch my old flame

When did You stop being enough for me?
When did You stop being enough?
When did You stop being enough for me?
When did You stop being enough?
Enough, enough, enough
Enough, enough, enough
Enough, enough, enough
Enough

'Cause I think we lost who we are
In the times that we rise, the times that we fall
Got my eyes on the score, took my eyes off the ball
Did I take it too far?

When did You stop being enough for me?
When did You stop being enough?
When did You stop being enough for me?
When did You stop being enough?
Enough, enough, enough
Enough, enough, enough
Enough, enough, enough
Enough

When did You stop being enough?
