

Still

Branan Murphy

I try and I try but I can't deny my worry
You send your word in the waves but it's so hard to hold on
When I can't see the page that you're writing, it's still your story
If I'm winning or waiting my soul hears the same love song

Cause You're a right now, God
But sometimes You're not
I will worship you either way

Still...
You're still on the throne of grace
Worthy of all my faith
You're still the God, who saves
Yeah...

You're still...
Still moving here and now
Silencing every doubt
You're still holding on to me
So maybe I should just be still...

You're still on my side
You're still in control
You're still right on time
You're unstoppable
Everything I need
Easy, little things
To the God who breathed
Galaxies from nothing

You're still on my side
You're still in control
You're still right on time
You're unstoppable
Everything I need
Easy, little things
To the God who breathed
Galaxies from nothing

You're still on my side
You're still in control
You're still right on time
You're unstoppable
Everything I need
Easy, little things
To the God who breathed
Galaxies from nothing

Still...
You're still on the throne of grace
Worthy of all my faith
You're still the God, who saves...

You're still...
Still moving here and now
Silencing every doubt
You're still holding on to me

So maybe I should just be still
Maybe I should just be still...
