

Enemy

Brand Of Sacrifice

Despair, despair
No clear directive; lost perspective
I am beyond repair
Overcome by a ravenous nature

A designated ending
Pulled inside, black blood now resides
(Resides)
Every breath I gulp has now become ice-cold
The wrath inside me boils over from my rage
My anger elevates
Now I will stop at nothing
This is the path that I've chosen

Enemy, you'll always be a distant part of me
(You watched my face transform,
Now the monster within begins to take on its new form)

Am I an animal?
I feel the cracks beneath my skin
It's waiting so patiently for me to retreat and give
To abandon those who rely on me
Who rely on me
I'll set it free
The transformation begins
No longer bound to these confines
I will stop at nothing
This is the path that I've chosen

Enemy, you'll always be a distant part of me
(You watched my face transform,
Now the monster within begins to take on its new form)

Enemy, I will not be a fading memory
(I will not be)
I will not be a fading memory

Into my weakened ear to fill my mind
For I am now open
Begin to hear a discordant ringing

(Ring)
It's ringing, it's ringing, it's ringing!
Never felt like I belonged
Fill the void inside of me
I refuse to be weak
So fill the void inside of me
(I refuse to be weak
So fill the void inside of me
Into to weakened ear fill my mind)
For I am now open

Enemy, you'll always be a distant part of me
(You watched my face transform,
Now the monster within begins to take on its new form)
Enemy
(You will always be distant part of me)

Enemy

(I will not be a fading memory)
