

This Changes Everything

Brandon Heath

Some might say
People never change
But I disagree
Take a look at me

And there's nobody that can tell me that I'm not good enough
Not anybody that can say that I ain't worthy of love
'Cause I got that, got that kind of love

Never knew a love like You that could make a heart brand new
I can say that I'm not who I used to be
Never felt a love so wide that could change a life like mine
I can say that I was blind, but now I see

Now I'm stepping into a new reality
Letting go of the lies that I believed
Getting used to the way You look at me
This changes everything
Waking up as I wipe the tears away
Running wild like a child who's on the fray
And I can't hold back, just gotta say
This changes everything

Open doors
Go on, show me more
Making all things new
That's just what You do

God, You've never ever given me a reason to doubt
I know You're always gonna love me from the inside out
'Cause You got that, got that kind of love

Now I'm stepping into a new reality
Letting go of the lies that I believed
Getting used to the way You look at me
This changes everything
Waking up as I wipe the tears away
Running wild like a child who's on the fray
And I can't hold back, just gotta say
This changes everything

Never knew a love like You that could make a heart brand new
I can say that I'm not who I used to be
Never felt a love so wide that could change a life like mine
I can say that I was blind, but now I see
This changes everything

Stepping into a new reality
Letting go of the lies that I believed
Getting used to the way You look at me
This changes everything
Waking up as I wipe the tears away
Running wild like a child who's on the fray
And I can't hold back, just gotta say
This changes everything
