

She Couldn't Lie Anymore

Brandon Rhyder

All she left me was a letter
Taped to the bathroom door
She said she couldn't face me
And she couldn't lie anymore
She couldn't lie beside me
For another night
Or make believe that everything was gonna turn out alright
She said she did it for me and as cold and hard as the truth might be
She couldn't lie anymore
I guess it doesn't matter
If there's someone she left me for Either way my world is shattered
Cause she couldn't lie anymore
She couldn't lie beside me
For another night
Or make believe that everything was gonna turn out alright
She said she did it for me and as cold and hard as the truth might be
She couldn't lie anymore
I guess she did what she had to do
And I guess it's for the better
But I sure love being her fool
I would have let her lie forever
She couldn't lie beside me
For another night
Or make believe that everything was gonna turn out alright
She said she did it for me and as cold and hard as the truth might be
She couldn't lie anymore
She said she did it for me and as cold and hard as the truth might be
She couldn't lie anymore
She couldn't lie here anymore
She couldn't lie anymore
