

Breaking Ground

Brandtson

Forfeit the game or play to win?
I made my bed and now I'm sleeping in.
Woke up late to find you gone.
Hope I wasn't wrong.

I think you caught me thinking out loud.
Would I be crazy if I burnt my own house down?
Then I could rebuild to my liking.
Close cover before striking.

Breaking ground for the new me.
Breaking down every time I think about it.
Breaking ground for the new me.
Getting up from these past catastrophes.

I'm always using words like maybe and someday. maybe someday I' ll learn
That tomorrow's always a day away.
I always knew it would feel like this
But I can't say I was ready for it.

Out of state, out of mind.
At least I can pretend I'm fine.
Could this cup of coffee
Really keep me company for another winter alone? I'm always usi ng words like maybe and someday and sorry.
I'm sorry I couldn't say you remind me of everything I ever wan ted to be.
Maybe we were meant to be.
