

We Have To Escape

Breakdown of Sanity

We have to escape
Another day goes without any change
The feeling we live with still remains
We're stuck in a hole and we're searching for anything to hold

There has to be somewhere that we can be safe from the lives we live each

Day

There has to be somewhere that we can be far away

We've to escape and I will go anywhere if you just lead
Show me the way
Escape to a place where we'll be together everyday
We have to escape

There has to be some place that nobody knows
We have to escape.
