The Great Divide

Breaking Benjamin

Carry me all through the night I am the last light fading Leave all the lost souls behind Show me the silence breaking And when you're lost and out of time I will be right here waiting And when your dreams return to life I'll be forever fading And we'll fall behind

So I'll wait for you As I keep your faith alive And I'll pray for you As we cross the great divide

Bury the wounds deep inside Rupture the fault line breaking Dream of the world left behind Show us we're worth forsaking And when the cold begins to rise darkness is overtaking And when the fear is satisfied I'll be forever changing As we all realize

So I'll wait for you As I keep your faith alive And I'll pray for you As we cross the great divide And I'll break for you As I open up the sky And I'll stay for you As we cross the great divide

Follow the sun light down Cry clear and loud Heaven won't help us now But it's better this way Warm light wash me away

So I'll wait for you As I keep your faith alive And I'll pray for you As we cross the great divide And I'll break for you As I open up the sky And I'll stay for you As we cross the great divide
