

Earthquake

Breathe Atlantis

No earthquake shakes my ground
I will get through the night
Got the darkness inside I am here to fight

Too many years I let myself drown
Feels like I died somehow
And broke into pieces

Too many times I gave up on life
Couldn't keep from shutting down the lights
But now I'm immortal

Living in a selfmade misery
I am the motherfucking enemy
All these years has turned my heart to stone

No earthquake shakes my ground
I will get through the night
Got the darkness inside I am here to fight
I will not deny
Born and raised to die
Nothing left inside
That is worth to fight

Again and again I tried to hold on
But failure isn't keeping you alive
I'm drowning in weakness
Blood in the tears, tears that I cried
Nothing left to hold back or to hide
My sadness, my sorrow

Try to kill me now
Stab me in the back
Carry all the weight
I won't collapse
All these years has turned my heart to stone

No earthquake shakes my ground
I will get through the night
Got the darkness inside I am here to fight
I will not deny
Born and raised to die
That is worth to fight

Watch out, watch out
I'm coming for your blood now
Get down, get down
'Cause I won't stop 'til you're undone

This is a selfmade misery

No earthquake shakes my ground
I will get through the night
Got the darkness inside I am here to fight
I will not deny

That is worth to fight

Watch out, watch out
Get down, get down
