

Savior

Breathe Atlantis

I can't be your savior
Be your savior

But you've been away, been away
Lost your way so long ago
Too much pain, too much pain
That you can't stand for what you're fighting for

No war, no war
Is worth to fight for you no more
No war, no war
Will give you back the things you've lost

I can't be your savior
The one you always count on
Be your savior
To help you carry on

Try to find the way
You have lost somehow
Savior, savior
To drag you out a-
Drag you out alive
To drag you out alive

Show me a path
Show me a path
To let go all my past and all my enemies
Gone, all gone
Have I lost the way to see what was in front of me

So gone, I'm so gone
I have nowhere left to go and it's killing me

I can't be your savior
The one you always count on
Be your savior
To help you carry on

Try to find the way
You have lost somehow
Your savior, savior
To drag you out a-
Drag you out alive

I can't be your savior
The one you always count on to be your savior
To help you carry on

I can't be your savior
The one you always count on
Be your savior
To help you carry on

Try to find the way
You have lost somehow
I'm not your savior, savior, savior

To drag you out alive

To drag you out alive

No war, no war

We just go back to fix you first
