

The Dressing Room

Breathe Carolina

Oh God, I already forgot your name.
But a name's just a string of letters, put together, so clever.
Oh God, I thought that I found God in your name.
It's upsetting but the setting won't change.
We're never gonna be the same.

If you look everybody here is trying on new faces,
And the ones that fit are suprisingly contagious,
With a shiny new beginning we cordially invite you to the dress ing room.

Oh God, it seems that I misplaced your secret.
But I can see what it does, how it lights you up.
Oh God, this season has seen better days.
Keep it steady 'cos you're losing the pace.
We're never gonna be the same.

If you look everybody here is trying on new faces,
And the ones that fit are suprisingly contagious,
With a shiny new beginning we cordially invite you to the dress ing room.

Don't spill your guts 'cos that's a mess that no one wants to c lean up.
Is this enough? My heart is stuck.
This feeling is breaking me up.

If you look everybody here is trying on new faces,
And the ones that fit are suprisingly contagious,
With a shiny new beginning we cordially invite you to the dress
ing room.
To the dressing room.
To the dressing room.
