

Take Care

Bren Joy

Is it making a difference
The way I'm treating all your pieces
Cause it ain't my business
To glue you back together

Hold me close and we can cry some
Stormy weather's no problem
Maybe tomorrow'll be a dry one
But I'm not worried bout the outcome

Baby, just take, take another picture
Use the self timer let's both try to get in it
Just take, take another minute
Just look into my eyes I'm studying your image
And even what I can't see I can imagine
You're the only person I wanna have
So I'll take, take you as you are
Just take care of my heart
Take care of my heart

No need to swim in the deep end
We can wade around
Lemme get you a drink then
Tell me how you feel baby I won't make a sound

Just hold me close and we can cry some
Stormy weather's no problem
Maybe tomorrow'll be a dry one
But I'm not worried bout it

Baby, just take, take another picture
Use the self timer let's both try to get in it
Just take, take another minute
Just look into my eyes I'm studying your image
And even what I can't see I can imagine
You're the only person I wanna have
So I'll take, take you as you are
Just take care of my heart
Take care of my heart

So let's unwind, baby, let's distress
Put it all behind we can leave that mess
Feel the breeze outside breathe it in your chest
We can just dance till we get undressed
I guess I been waiting for this moment
Since the universe was spoke in into existence
Just to get a single minute with you
I been losing on my own
Always winning with you
Wanna give you every one of my days

Baby, just take...
Oh, please, just take...
Just look into my eyes I'm studying your image
And even what I can't see I can imagine
You're the only person I wanna have
So I'll take, take you as you are

Just take care of my heart
Of my heart...
