

I'll Always Love You

Brenda Holloway

Your kiss, your kiss
Your kiss means more to me than Anything I've ever known before

Your love, your love
Your love is the only love
I've ever known that keeps me
Wanting so much more

I thought there was
Nothing I had missed
And I thought I knew
The meaning of a lover's kiss

You've turned me inside out
You've taught me what love was about
And that's why I'll always love you

Your touch, your touch
Your touch is that velvet touch
That thrills me so
How much you'll never know

When we're alone, when we're alone
When we're alone
Sometimes things that are wrong
Seem, oh, so right
Darling, please hold me tight

You've turned me inside out
You've taught me what love was about
And for this I'll always love you

I'll always love you
I'll always love you
I'll always love you
I'll always love you
