

You Put It All Together

Brenda Lee

Like the pieces of a puzzle
In a box on the shelf.
There was nothing to see
I was no good for me or anyone else
Then you picked up the pieces
And a pattern appeared
You filled every space,
Set the colors in place,
Till the picture was clear

Cause, you baby, you put it all together
When I needed you the most.
Opened up your arms to me when
All the doors were closed,
Brought me back to love again as only you can do.

Then baby you, you put it all together
When I thought all was apart
Cause you made me feel complete,
With the love in your heart

Now the rooms that slowly opens
In the warm summer night
I have reason to grow
Cause your soft loving glow lights up the night
And with each gentle moment
When I look in your eyes
Oh, all I can see are reflections of me,
Cause my love can't lie

Then baby you, you put it all together
When I needed you the most
You opened up your arms to me when,
When all the doors were closed
You brought me back to love again as only you can do

Oh Baby, you,
You put it all together when I fallen all apart,
Cause you made me feel complete
With the love in your heart
