

What Is It All For

Brendan James

You're scraping off the windshield
You're fighting with the cold
You said to flip the heat on
You look out on the road

You drive to buy the groceries
You start to pay for gas
You spend your only money
And work to get it back
What is it for

What is it all for
What is it for
What is it all for
What is it for
What is it all for
What is it for

Your dreams are always changing
Your thoughts they run astray
The kind of car your friend drives
His baby on the way
What is it for

What is it all for
What is it for
What is it all for
What is it for
What is it all for
What is it for

To ride
To fall
To be humble every moment
Knowing you can't do it all
To wonder
Just try
To forgive yourself, 'cause what the hell
Your time is slipping by
To feel
To feel

You're sitting by the window
Your coffee in your hand
You feel [?]
Your boss won't understand
Staring past the sunlight
You catch a fading star
The void that lies behind it
Might know who you are
What is it for

What is it all for
What is it for
What is it all for
What is it for
What is it all for

What is it for

To ride

To fall

To be present every moment

Knowing you can't do it all

don't worry

to hope

to look out for all the ones you love

'Cause you would just never know

To feel

To feel

To feel

What is it all for

What is it for

What is it all for

What is it for

What is it all for

What is it for
