

Devil Ain't Done

Brent Cobb

Yeah I believe in heaven
I think the good Lord knows
But the red dude with the long tail keeps tuggin' at my soul
I'll roll it if you got it
I'll drink an iced cold beer
I'm a sucker for a good time
Guess the reason I'm still here is

I got some drinkin' smokin' cheatin' left to do
I've been a runnin' with the wrong crowd
Now i'm neck deep in the blues
I reckon I'll just live forever
If only the good die young
Heaven ain't ready and the devil ain't done

I got a one foot in the graveyard
And one on an old barstool
I got a pocket full of Benjamins
And I'm looking at the fool

I got some drinkin' smokin' cheatin' left to do
I've been runnin' with the wrong crowd
Now I'm neck deep in the blues
I reckon I'll just live forever
If only the good die young
Heaven ain't ready and the devil ain't done

I went down to the crossroads
I looked the devil in the eye
Smashed his guitar, stole his Cadillac
Then I rolled on down the line

I got some drinkin' smokin' cheatin' left to do
I've been runnin' with the wrong crowd
Now I'm neck deep in the blues
I guess I'll just live forever
If only the good die young
Heaven ain't ready and the devil ain't done

Drinkin' smokin' cheatin' left to do
I've been runnin' with the wrong crowd
Now I'm neck deep in the blues
I guess I'll just live forever
'Cause only the good die young
Heaven ain't ready and the devil ain't done
Heaven ain't ready and the devil ain't done
Heaven ain't ready and the devil ain't done
