

All I Ever Needed

Bret Michaels

There you lay, and here I stand.
He knelt down on his knees and took her by the hand.
We've seen some good times, been through some bad.
But somewhere between the laughter and the tears
We sure had a lot of great years.

He said
We didn't need fortune we didn't need fame
Just a little shelter from the rain
Your hand to hold on to
When times got tough you pulled me through
We didn't need a castle made of stone
Just you there as I grow old
Your heart to hold on to
All I ever needed was you.

Remember our first dance and our first kiss
I pictured my life with you to be just like this.
You stood by me
I stand by you
We share the laughter, joy, and pain
But its a moment like this I hope it never ends

We didn't need fortune we didn't need fame
Just a little shelter from the rain
Your hand to hold on to
When times got tough you pulled me through
We didn't need a castle made of stone
Just you there as I grow old)
Your heart to hold on to
All I ever needed was you.

Share my life with you girl yeah, oh yeah
I thank you for sharing your life with me
For giving me a reason to believe
For loving me for who I am...

We didn't need fortune we didn't need fame
Just a little shelter from the rain
Your hand to hold on to
When times got tough you pulled me through.
We didn't need a castle made of stone
Just you there as I grow old
Your heart to hold on to
All I ever needed
All I ever needed was you.
You're all I ever needed.....
