Oh the Glorious

Brett Dennen

After all these tears have dried these knots are gonna come untied and when I climb down from this tree to walk on land will be so heavenly and if I don't know what to do oh, I swear I won't follow any of you because all thats wanted by us to lay our tracks in the settling dust all that's wanted by us mhmm, is the glorious
and I've been loved inside a heart for years and I'm breaking out I'm busting rims
and I'm led blinding through the light of day and I know now that none of you fools know the way none of you fools know the way when my words are rehearsed and clear may I speak loud enough for everyone to hear and when my arrow flies straight and true may it pierce the clouds soar through on through and when I gain the strength to make a move I'll drift above and sail away from this cold wet ground because all that's wanted by us is to lay our tracks in the settling dust
all that's wanted by us
mhmm, is the glorious
and I'm breaking out
it's time for me to go off on my own you can tell them that this child has grown tell them that this child has grown
