

Lonestar Lovers

Brett Eldredge

As we fall like matches on a western sky
Always chasing highways, looking in your eyes
As I watch your hair wild in the wind
Feel my heart go somewhere that it's never been
And they never will change who we are

We're lonestar lovers
Doesn't matter where we go
We're gonna hold each other
Run out into the great unknown
And we won't stop running
I could die with you in my arms
'Cause we're lonestar lovers
Where I wanna be is where you are

This town feels like an old forgotten place
But I'll never forget that smile on your face
And would you lay with me in the raw moonlight
As a river flows and reminds us why

We're lonestar lovers
Doesn't matter where we go
We're gonna hold each other
Run out into the great unknown
And we won't stop running
I could die with you in my arms
Yeah, we're lonestar lovers
Where I wanna be is where you are

Where I wanna be is where you are

And your love echoes through these canyons
So clear I can understand it
With you, I'm never alone
Always headed home, yeah
We're lonestar lovers, oh

We're lonestar lovers
Doesn't matter where we go
We're gonna hold each other
Run out into the great unknown
And we won't stop running
I could die with you here in my arms
Yeah, we're lonestar lovers
Where I wanna be is where you are

Where I wanna be is where you are
Where I wanna be is where you are
