

Season of Lights and Wonder

Brett Eldredge

Put up your lights, open your arms
It's the season of lights and wonder
Lay in the snow, soak in the glow
Shine in the moon that you're under
And fill up your cup with cocoa and love
And go give a kiss to your mother

Oh, welcome home
To the season of lights and wonder

Put a star on the tree, a bow on the wreath
And come lay your head on my shoulder
'Cause it comes and it goes, so pull it in close
And hold it real tight 'fore it's over
'Cause time is a gift, let's all be like kids
Grateful to have one another

Oh, welcome home
To the season of lights and wonder

The angels sing, and the church bells ring
As the years fly past, we can still go back

Just put up your lights, open your eyes
It's the season of lights and wonder
Oh come sing along, at the top of your lungs
The best gift of all is your childhood

Oh welcome home
To the season of lights
And wonder

Oh come on
It's the season of lights
And wonder
