

Time Well Spent

Brett Eldredge

I've been racing, chasing, caught up in the grind
Damn near going out of my mind
And it's getting old real fast
I need a new time zone, zip code, point of view
A southbound window seat into (come fly with me)
A drunken rum-soaked crowd

And here we are
Strangers, barefoot dancing on the bar
The bottom of the bottle seems so far
So come on, let's dive back in
Cause I'm tired of work, and it's time to play
Where I stumble's where I've stayed
If palm tree shade makes a perfect tent
Then wasted time is time well spent

I got all I need
Floating on the breeze in Staniel Cay
The pounding in my head's starting to ease
From the magic in this glass
Yeah, that's the way it works down here
Things turn around real fast

And here we are
Strangers, barefoot dancing on the bar
The bottom of the bottle seems so far
So come on, let's dive back in
Cause I'm tired of work, and it's time to play
Where I stumble's where I've stayed
If palm tree shade makes a perfect tent
Then wasted time is time well spent

You can get a little loud
We can get a little hard to find
Give a little bit of love
We'll mix it with a bit of sunshine
Mix it up

And here we are
Strangers, barefoot dancing on the bar
The bottom of the bottle seems so far
So come on, let's dive back in
Cause I'm tired of work, and it's time to play
Where I stumble's where I've stayed
If palm tree shade makes a perfect tent
Then wasted time is time well spent

You gotta waste a little time in your life once in a while
Come on everybody
Ah, here we are
Strangers, barefoot dancing on the bar
Fill 'er up again
It's time well spent, it's time well spent
It's time well spent, it's time well spent
