

Better Bad Idea

Brett Kissel

She said, "What if we take the long way home
Turn right here and see where it goes
Kill the headlights the moon is all we need"

Then she twisted the cap off my whiskey
And said, "I bet my Daddy's gonna kill me
If we turn this Silverado tailgate to a California king"

Girl, all I know is tonight I can't think
Of a better bad idea
I can't think of a better bad idea

See the water tower at the county line
Let's blow right passed that trespass sign
If the cops show up we'll be ready to run

She looked at me and said
"I can't think of a better bad idea"
I can't think of a better bad idea

Must be the midnight, moonlight
Sunset, sunrise
So wrong, so right
Lost in your eyes
My hands, your hips
I kiss your lips
Seats back, shirts ripped
All I know is
I can't think of a better bad idea, no

She said, "It's 3AM I should get home"
Or we could stay right here all night long
I can't think of a better bad idea

I can't think of a better bad idea
I can't think of a better bad idea

Must be the midnight, moonlight
Sunset, sunrise
So wrong, so right
Lost in your eyes
Can't think of a better bad idea

My hands, your hips
I kiss your lips
Seats back, shirts ripped
All I know is
Can't think of a better bad idea

She said what if we take the long way home
Turn right here and see where it goes
