

Let Your Horses Run

Brett Kissel

This world don't like the ramblin' kind
Keep your life inside the lines
Don't go past that tresspassin' sign

Fear ain't good at lettin' loose
Like heavy chains around your boots
Worrying's a waste of your time

So love till you're breathless
And live kinda reckless
When the world puts up fences
Bust down the gate

'Cause you can't rope the wild out of a mustang
You can't tie an anchor to a freight train
No, you can't take the wind out of a hurricane
Till it's done
So baby, let your heart loose
Dream it if you want to
Ride it like you're chasin' the sun
Let your horses run, run

Don't buy all they advertise
They polish up that kryptonite
Pretty soon, you'll wonder why
You can't fly

So rattle the cages
And rewrite the pages
Freedom's contagious
Yeah, that's the truth

'Cause you can't rope the wild out of a mustang
You can't tie an anchor to a freight train
Oh, you can't take the wind out of a hurricane
Till it's done
So baby, let your heart loose
Dream it if you want to
Ride it like you're chasin' the sun
Let your horses run, run

No, you can't rope the wild out of a mustang
You can't tie an anchor to a freight train
And you can't take the wind out of a hurricane
Till it's done
So baby, let your heart loose
Dream it if you want to
Ride it like you're chasin' the sun
Let your horses run, run

Let your horses run
