

Uncomfortable

Brett Young

You still make me nervous
When you walk into a room
Looking like that, yeah
A sundress off your shoulder
Got my heart hitting my
T-shirt so fast
Reminding me of the past

The way the chills go up and down my spine
Every time
Just like they did the first time

You still make me stop
You still make me stare
You still bring me coffee
In your underwear
You know it makes me crazy
You know that I don't care
Somehow the way you love me
Still shakes me
And makes me
Uncomfortable

You turn off the TV
When you reach across the sheets
In the dark, mm
Forever in the rear view
But one look still brings me
Back to the start
Where you stole my heart, yeah

The way the chills go up and down my spine
Every time
Just like they did the first time

You still make me stop
You still make me stare
You still bring me coffee
In your underwear
You know it makes me crazy
You know that I don't care
Somehow the way you love me
Still shakes me
And makes me
Uncomfortable

You're meant for me
You're still making me
Uncomfortable

You still make me stop
You still make me stare
You still bring me coffee
In your underwear
You know it makes me crazy
You know that I don't care
Somehow the way you love me

Still shakes me
And makes me

Uncomfortable
I hope you'll always make me
Uncomfortable

Somehow the way you love me
Still shakes me
And makes me
