

Your Love Will Find Me (Psalm 139)

Brian Doerksen

You were there when life began
Spoken words became a man
Formed in love my every part
You caused the beating of my heart
You're beside, behind, before
You surround me
You're everywhere

You chart the path ahead of me
Show me all that I can be
Every moment you are near
In every step, through every fear
There is nowhere I can go
To be without You
You're everywhere

Looking to the heavens, You're there
And in the dark depths of despair
Even there Your love will find me
Knowing that I'm never alone
Even if Your hand takes my home
To the other side of the sea
Your love will find me
Your love will find me

Precious are Your thoughts to me
More wonderful than I can see
As I cannot count the sand
I cannot count the things You've planned
For when I wake up everyday
To face the morning
You meet me there
You're everywhere

Looking to the heavens, You're there
And in the dark depths of despair
Even there Your love will find me
Knowing that I'm never alone
Even if Your hand takes my home
To the other side of the sea

Looking to the heavens, You're there
And in the dark depths of despair
Even there Your love will find me
Your love will find me
Knowing that I'm never alone
Even if Your hand takes my home
To the other side of the sea
Your love will find me

Your love will find me
Your love will find me
Your love will find me
Your love will find me
