

Just One Life

Brian May

I did not know you
Our lives never touched
'Til the day they gathered
To bid you farewell
And they painted your picture
And I looked around
I felt I saw you
In the words and the sound

Your talent came flowing
Through the stories they tell
And through the faces
Of those who loved you so well
Your life gave them a treasure
A piece of themselves
Something they carry
And still serves them well

Just One Life
Just One Life
Just One Life
That is born, and is, and is gone
Just One Life
And I'm so glad to know you
As I know you now

Perhaps inside you
You were messed up like me
But to them you were whole and strong
And friend in their need
And what you left behind you
And what swept over me
Says that your life's work
Rolls on and on
A piece of eternity

Just One Life
Just One Life
Just One Life
That is born, and is, and is gone
Just One Life
Did you ever have the chance to find out
What life is all about

I did not know you
Our lives never touches
'Til the day we gathered
To say our farewells