Brian McKnight

Thought and I believed that I will never see you again
I'm trying to recall when was the last time
How long has it been
Talking reminisce and somehow you pack out the things
I feel the deja vu and even if it's just for old time sake

I don't wanna close my eyes
Not until the night turns to day
I don't wanna stop no no no
Not right now while I'm feeling this way
The perfect dinner execution
I love it when you whisper my name
I don't wanna stop no no no
Not right now while I'm feeling this way

How am I supposed to get my head back on straight
I guess I missed you more than I was willing to show it or say
Now the question is what in the hell do we do now
I guess in this cold world better the second time we go round

I don't wanna close my eyes
Not until the night turns to day
I don't wanna stop no no no
Not right now while I'm feeling this way
The perfect dinner execution
I love it when you whisper my name
I don't wanna stop no no no
Not right now while I'm feeling this way

There's no reason we could stop this train
Like we're standing in the pouring rain
And we don't care we doin' just fine
If a mirror see you face again (your face, your sweet face)
Feels so good to have you back again (so good you're back again
)

I don't wanna close my eyes
Not until the night turns to day
I don't wanna stop no no no
Not right now while I'm feeling this way
The perfect dinner execution
I love it when you whisper my name
I don't wanna stop no no no
Not right now while I'm feeling this way
