

But a fiend-fiend
Used to be a friend-friend
Now he is just someone you seen-seen
Ever think that broken man is just a fiend with a dream-dream-dream?
Ever think that fiend is just a broken man with a dream-dream-dream-dream ever think that fiend?

An old man, a new soul
On the street without you
You walk past but never look
Underneath he's like you

Used to be a friend now I'm someone you seen
Spent a couple nights on the side of the street
Me, I got lost in the drug and the dream
Remember that you could be anybody

A moment, a new soul
On the street, about to
You walk past and never look underneath he's like you...underneath he's like you

Addicted to addiction yeah I know what you mean
Everything is easy when you know what you need
It's hard to be a person all the trouble it bring
Remember that he could be anybody

Fiend-fiend
Used to be a friend-friend
Now he is just someone you seen-seen
Ever think that broken man is just a fiend with a dream-dream-dream?
Ever think that fiend is just a broken man with a dream-dream-dream-dream ever think that fiend?

An old man, a new soul
On the street without you
You walk past but never look
Underneath he's like you
State that I was in
Wake up in the mornin
This is who I always was...
This is who I always was...
