

No Lies

Bridge to Grace

Now that I tried
To make up all the times
You left with a hole in my heart for you tearing it apart, one more night
These feelings, I shake
I know the mistake
I drink after drink I can find
That I knew let your lids on my face

Somebody wake me up today
I feel like I'm torn apart
I've lived wasted, no chaser, I've got a long long way to go
When I looked in your eyes
Of the day that you lied

These feelings are breaking
I've always been fake
I don't know which way it's gonna be
I don't know how I'm gonna live
Turning pages up for memory
Save me from this misery
I know which way I'm going as long as it's alright

Somebody wake me up today
I feel like I'm torn apart
I've lived wasted, no chaser, I've got a long long way to go
Anything keep me far away
I'm just another broken heart
So many faces, rearrange them
It's got a long me out of the cold

When I looked in your eyes
Of the day that you lied
You lied
You lied
You lied!

A second medication within all this situation
Walled up in your friction
And the set has got a body you drown

Somebody wake me up today
I feel like I'm torn apart
I've lived wasted, no chaser, I've got a long long way to go
Anything keep me far away
I'm just another broken heart
So many faces, rearrange them
It's got a long me out of the cold
