

No Apologies

Bridget Kelly

I'm not gonna cry, pour me a drink
'Cause I hate goodbyes, I can't feel a thing
But doctor, she said it ain't the [?]
I wish I could hold you and love you the way that I should
It's such a shame, you were almost mine
Too good to be true, no we're out of time

This is how I call
My heart has no home
And that's how I know
I'm better off alone
No apologies
I've got none, no apologies

I am who I am, I've done what I've done
There's no explanations owed to no one
My daddy he loved me, taught me to pray
So God forgive me for not holding on to my baby
It's such a shame, you were almost mine
Too good to be true and now we're out of time

This is how I call
My heart has no home
And that's how I know
I'm better off alone
I've been here before
So pour me one more
'Cause that's how I know
I'll always be [?]
No apologies
I've got none, no apologies

See life is too short for regret
Full of pain, we'll never forget
You were a blessing, hurts to confess it
Should've kept it, oh

Life is too short for regret
Full of pain, we'll never forget
You were a blessing (said you were) hurts to confess it
Should've kept it, oh

Life is too short for regret
Full of pain, we'll never forget
(You don't know) you were a blessing (how I prayed) hurts to confess it
For the blessing, should've kept it
You don't know how I prayed for the blessing
No apologies
I've got none, no apologies
Please God, forgive me