Briston Maroney

Yeah yeah

Somebody be honest with me
I do not think to often of the consequences coming
Along with my decisions
These human-esque revisions
They look an awful lot like ones I used to hide in visions

Inside my mind I'm so tired of this feeling
It's been taking me down and it's taking its time
I do not think about it often oh
It has a way of working according to plan

Take me down to the riverside
Look, don't touch my body
I don't wanna live or die
So, don't call me in the morning
Shut my mouth and close my eyes
Take this as a warning
I can not explain it to anyone but me, babe

Yeah yeah

I think everybody has that little feeling in them
I pour my coffee walk down the street
And wait for you to come
To state it simply blah blah blah la leh
I'm quite on the edge
Just two steps in my head and need you here now

I'm thinking that I'm chopping down the trees
Inside my minus reality
I do not think about it
I don't wanna be here anymore
But I don't seem to have a choice
So, I might stop fucking complaining about it

Take me down to the riverside
Look, don't touch my body
I don't wanna live or die
So don't call me in the morning
Shut my mouth and close my eyes
Take this as a warning
I can not explain it to anyone but me

I'm gonna make my money
Just you wait
And when I do, it's not for you
It's not for anybody else

Take me down to the riverside
Look, don't touch my body
I don't wanna live or die
So, don't call me in the morning
Shut my mouth and close my eyes
Take this as a warning
I can not explain it to anyone but me
